News briefs

April 13 set for down day

For the hard work before and during the unit compliance inspection, 65th Air Base Wing Commander Col. Bill Percival has declared April 13 a down day for U.S. military troops. U.S. and Portuguese civilian employees will get an 8-hour time-off award to use within one year. Civilians should coordinate time off with their supervisors.

Closures set

The credit union will be closed April 13, but the automatic teller machine will be working. The commissary will be closed April 13 and 25 in observance of Portuguese holidays. All Army and Air Force Exchange Service facilities, except the Main Street Shoppette, will be closed both days. The shoppette will be open noon- 8 p.m.

Construction in progress

Starting Monday, contractors will be replacing light poles along Rua 25 de Abril -- the road in front of the Flightline Base Exchange. Drivers should watch for traffic detours in that area. Construction is expected to be complete near the end of April.

Eye clinic limited service

The optometry clinic will offer limited service through April 30 because of low manning. For more information call 2-3554.

PA stops VHS recording service

Due to a reduction in manpower, public affairs will no longer transfer AFN recordings to videotapes. Anyone interested in recording AFN broadcasts are encouraged to use VHS recorders at home. Customers can get broadcast air times from AFN by calling 2-3496.

Some disassembly required

A member of a removal crew from Electronic Systems Center, Hanscom Air Force Base, Mass., removes a panel from the radome near Bldg. T-426. The radome surrounded a satellite dish that has been inactive since the end of 1997. The satellite was one of Lajes' primary communication links to the States for several years. After it's removed, the dish will be shipped to Tobyhanna Army Depot, Pa., for refurbishment. The removal should save the Air Force an estimated $800,000 in maintenance costs.

Everyone responsible for preventing child abuse

Pat Williams

Family advocacy

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month, a time to focus on the protection and care of our most vulnerable resource.

Forty-three percent of American parents report spanking or hitting their child within the last 12 months; 37 percent report insulting or swearing at their child; and two percent report having kicked, bit or punched their child.

More than 3 million children were reported to child protective service agencies as alleged victims of child abuse or neglect in 1998, and approximately 1 million of the reports were confirmed.

The physical and emotional abuse of children yields harmful consequences for society. A growing body of evidence links child abuse and neglect with drug and alcohol abuse, teen pregnancy, youth violence and chronic health problems. It is therefore critical to focus on preventing child abuse and neglect before it starts.

That is what April's observance of child abuse prevention is all about.

Placing an emphasis on positive parenting is an important component to the prevention of child abuse.

As a community it's essential that we support parents and families. As parents, we must strive to respect and nurture our children.

Here are a few tips on how to be the best parent you can be:

— Be a nurturing parent. Children need to know they're special and loved. Learn about a child's development process so you can have reasonable expectations about what your child can and cannot do.

— Help yourself.

When the big and little problems of everyday life pile up to the point where you feel overwhelmed and out of control, take time out. Don't take it out on your child. Take a deep breath, turn on some music. Know where you can turn for help when you need it.

— When your baby cries it can be frustrating, especially when nothing you do seems to work. Learn what to do if your baby won't stop crying. Never shake a baby.

— Monitor your child's television and computer use. Watching violence on TV or playing violent computer games can harm young children. It scares them and also teaches that aggression is a good way to handle frustration and solve problems.

— Spend time playing with your children, or read to them instead.

— Report suspected abuse or neglect. Every adult in our community is responsible for helping to keep our children safe.

If you have reason to believe a child has been or may be harmed, call family advocacy at 2-5177 or 295-57-5177.

UCI, IG:Team Lajes excels

Staff Sgt. Beverly Isik Public affairs

The 65th Air Base Wing and U.S. Joint Forces Azores received high marks during inspections that gauged each unit's ability to perform its mission March 25-30.

Col. Bill Percival, 65th ABW and USFORAZ commander, announced inspection results to a crowd of anxious Team Lajes members during the post-UCI party March 30.

During the unit compliance inspection, the team reviewed the wing's day-to-day operations and verified the unit's compliance with public law, Department of Defense, Air Force and ACC directives.

They validated the unit's compliance with 322 applicable critical objectives and four special interest items, the commander said. Overall, inspectors found 99.37 percent of the CCOs in compliance, Colonel Percival said.

The Joint Forces Command inspection team evaluated 100 different areas, yielding three findings, according to Navy Lt. j.g. Jim Robinson, director for manpower and personnel. "That's 97 percent compliance -- a significant accomplishment considering the scope of our mission here."

"Both the joint and ACC inspections established our reputation in the respective commands as a unit of excellence," the colonel said. "People at their best were validated by the inspector general teams of two commands. Both inspections were extremely detailed looks at the way we do business, and both validated that we're doing the right things for the right reasons."

ACC inspectors also identified six best practices -- superior methods or innovative practices that contribute to improved performance. Best practices will be forwarded to the Air Force Management and Innovation Agency, Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, for posting on the Air Force Best Practice Clearinghouse Web site at <http://www.afmia.randolph.af.mil/afmia/mip/afbp/index.htm>.

From units throughout the wing, the ACC inspectors identified 94 individuals and 25 teams as superior performers for knowledge, perseverance and professionalism that contributed to the unit's compliance and high state of mission readiness.

The JFCOM team awarded four commendables and five attaboys during their week-long inspection.

For the hard work and long hours Team Lajes members put in before and during the unit compliance inspection, the commander has declared April 13 a down day for U.S. military troops.

U.S. and Portuguese civilians will be given an 8-hour time-off award to use within one year. Civilians should coordinate time off with their supervisors.

"Being part of a winning effort is a great joy and we all deserve time to celebrate," the colonel said.

DODEA: director visits

Tech. Sgt. Jose Ruiz
Public affairs

Dr. Joseph Tafoya, the newest director of the Department of Defense Education Activity, visited DODDS schools here March 18-19.

The visit was part of a tour of DOD schools worldwide, aimed at familiarizing the new director with the challenges and issues educators, parents and faculty leaders face in the DODEA field.

According to Melissa Klopfer, Lajes Elementary School principal, during the director's tour here, he got an up-close look at the schools' operations.

"He visited every classroom and talked with every teacher about their day-to-day operations," the principal said. "They were impressed by the fact that he made himself available to learn first hand the challenges they face and the achievements they have made."

She added that Dr. Tafoya commended the schools' work ethics as well as the faculties' camaraderie with the base community.

The director met with members of the base community at a reception at the Top of the Rock Club March 19.

According to Elizabeth Kammeraad, Lajes schools officer and parent of a 7th grade DODDS student, the doctor's visit demonstrates a genuine concern for education on the part of DODDS.

"It shows that there is somebody out there who is looking out for us," said Mrs. Kammeraad. "To date, my son has attended three DODDS schools. It's nice to know that DODDS really cares."

Spouse selected as ACC's best

Staff Sgt. Beverly Isik
Public affairs

Cheryl Stutzman, 65th Services Squadron school age coordinator, is Air Combat Command's nominee for the Joan Orr Air Force Spouse of the Year Award.

The award is sponsored by the Air Force Association, recognizing spouses for their contributions to the Air Force.

A full-time employed mother of three girls, Mrs. Stutzman is married to Master Sgt. Randy Stutzman, 65th Civil Engineer Squadron.

"Whenever there's something going on at Lajes, she's always there," said Col. Bill Percival, 65th Air Base Wing commander.

With 17 bases in ACC and an estimated 60,000 spouses, Colonel Percival said it's quite an honor to have ACC's best helping out here at Lajes.

Mrs. Stutzman, a 17-year Air Force spouse, was cited for her contributions to the Lajes community, including Girl Scouts, the Enlisted Spouses Club, Enlisted Heritage Ball and Lajes schools.

"I only volunteer for things I believe in," she said. "And there's a lot of good things going on here at Lajes."

Most of her involvement is with activities and organizations where she said her husband or daughters are also active.

"I just love helping other people," she said. "But it's really a family affair. All the reasons they gave for me receiving the nomination -- I could say the same things about my family."

Rock climbing Saturday

Staff Sgt. Beverly Isik
Public affairs

People will literally be climbing the walls in the Chace Fitness Center Saturday at the grand opening of the new rock climbing wall.

It took nearly seven months and an estimated $70,000 to complete the mock-up of a rock mountainside. The new structure is made of composite rocklike material and stands more than 20 feet tall and spans nearly 40 feet wide.

"It's the largest rock climbing wall in Portugal," said Maj. Andre Whisnant, 65th Services Squadron commander. "Master this one and you're probably ready to go out and tackle the cliffs in Serreta."

The wall is getting a lot of support from the top. 65th Air Base Wing Commander Col. Bill Percival, an avid rock climber since his teen years, has been busy training the fitness center staff to work the safety ropes for would-be climbers.

"We've spent hours in instruction on how to teach belay techniques -- rope skills, tying knots," the colonel said. "The person on the ground has to know exactly how to hold the rope if they're going to be able to break a fall."

Safety was a top priority when establishing the ground rules. "Our emphasis was to create a safe, challenging and fun experience," the colonel said. "Anyone can climb the wall -- up to six feet. They can climb all the way to the top without taking a class -- as long as there's someone who's belay certified there to help."

Children can even take a walk on the wild side. "As long as the harness fits and they're accompanied by an adult who's belay certified -- either a parent or member of the fitness center staff," said 2nd Lt. Jerry Wilkerson, Chace Fitness Center director.

Belay training is conducted, by appointment, Saturdays, 10-11:30 a.m.; Tuesdays, 6-7:30 p.m.; and Wednesdays, noon-1:30 p.m. Colonel Percival will teach the first class at the grand opening Saturday at 11 a.m.

Climbing the wall, using the equipment and attending the training sessions are free.

"The cost of rock climbing in the civilian world isn't cheap," the lieutenant said. "The great thing here is we just issue the harnesses and equipment like we do the towels."

For more information call the fitness center at 2-5151.

Lajes students poets at heart

Staff Sgt. Beverly Isik
Public affairs

Turning thoughts into poetry has given several students from the high school and middle school a chance to get their poetry published.

A panel of judges selected 26 poems to send to Department of Defense Dependent Schools district competition where they will be judged along with entries from schools throughout Turkey, the Mediterranean, Iceland and Bahrain.

District-level winners will compete at the European level for the honor of being published in "Showcase," a DoDDS European literary and art magazine.

"Selection was tough," said Rita Bohn, Lajes High School "Showcase" coordinator. "Our students submitted 121 pieces of writing and we were only able to submit 26 of those."

Also, she said many of the poems not selected were so good, the yearbook staff is planning to produce a Lajes High School literary magazine, "The Falcon Flair," to publish many of those that didn't make it to the next level of competition.

The following students had at least one poem sent to the next level of competition: Briannon Scott, Regan Adee, Michelle Abramovich, Mary Alice Bean, Ki'wana Freeman, Maylene Morgan, Meredith Little, Andrea Green, Shayna Brothers, Alison Lovell, Ian Birch, Kelly Birch, Rebecca Perkins, Laura Thornburgh, Erica Riley, Amy Powell, Nicole Tucker, Corey Greineisen, Katlin Scott, Katie Lovell and Michael Wabiszewski.
